

Do you remember what happened last time you people let all the Bells have their way. Don't do it again, do the right and proper thing. Let Internet companies have access through Bell or any other telephone company so that people like myself can have inexpensive internet service. I am a senior citizen and can not afford any increase in the service.